RULES AND REGULATIONS

N.B. The following rules and regulations are meant to ensure the safety of the participants and the smooth operation of the program. Any breach of these rules may lead to expulsion from the Summer School.

Language Policy: The French language will be used at all times (see point 6 in the information guide).

Curfew: Curfew is 10:00 pm every evening except for certain special activities. A security guard will patrol the floors of the residence every night according to the schedule set by Protection Services of the University of Ottawa.

Room sharing: At all times, participants cannot be in an opposite sex participant’s room. After the curfew, participants must be in their respective room.

Alcohol and Drugs: Consumption of alcohol is strictly forbidden at all activities of the program and in the residences. Consumption of drugs and alcohol is strictly forbidden at all times. Anyone found in possession of drugs or alcohol will be expelled from the program.

Attendance and Participation: Attendance in classes, workshops, and socio-cultural activities is compulsory. Refusal to participate in one or more activities could lead to withdrawal of the bursary and expulsion from the program. Exceptions can be made for medical conditions or religious observance if proof is provided.

Consequently, participants are not allowed to visit their home or the home of family members during the evenings or weekends, unless there is an exceptional circumstance. Request for special permission must be submitted to the program coordinator before the start of the program.

Code of Conduct: Any attitude or behavior considered to interfere with the smooth operation of the program may be referred to a disciplinary committee. This committee has the right to expel any participant who does not follow the rules and regulations of the University of Ottawa and of Destination Clic.

Cell Phones
Usage of cell phones during class, unless specified by the instructor, is prohibited. Cell phones can be used outside of class time. Participants are expected to have access to a cell phone during the duration of the program in order to contact family members and reach uOttawa staff members when needed.

Punctuality: Participants are expected to be on time for all classes, workshops, meals, outings, and socio-cultural activities.

Dress Code: Participants are required to wear appropriate footwear and clothing in the cafeteria and during courses and organized activities.

Identification: Participants are expected to carry their Summer School ID at all times. This card will be provided on arrival.

Jumping in the elevators is prohibited (the cost to repair an elevator can be up to $800 – charged to the participants involved).
Please note that the University of Ottawa is not responsible for loss or damage to property caused by water, fire, or smoke. The University of Ottawa is not responsible for damages caused or acts of vandalism or theft committed by participants.

Finally, participants are expected to follow the rules and regulations of the University of Ottawa throughout their stay in the Summer School.
